A smaller generally good quality yarding of 707 cows and a mixed quality run of 39 bulls. These sold to solid local and interstate processor competition with only token restocker activity as prices rose for the local beef and some pastoral cows. However, bull prices after a slow start tended to recover towards the end of the run as quality improved.

The D2 medium weight cows sold from 110c to 135c, with most medium and heavy beef cows ranging from 126c to 150c to be generally 2c to 6c dearer, and from 265c to 295c/kg cwt. A few pastoral bred cows sold mainly from 114c to 140c/kg. A restocker order sourced light and medium weight D1 cows at 114c and 116c/kg. Early sales of bulls were up to 25c cheaper before recovering once quality improved to be 1c to 3c less overall as most sold from 110c to 152c/kg.
