Numbers were marginally lower and cattle showed a dearer trend over most categories. Quality slipped but this did not have a negative effect, with feedlot buyers dominating most secondary grades pushing prices higher. There was a limited supply of grain assisted cattle which were paid premium prices. Not all buyers attended, however there was an extra feedlot order in place.

Vealers were in short supply and the better finished types sold at 340c to 370c/kg. Trade heifers were in reasonable supply and prices were generally 9c higher to average 349c/kg. Trade steers sold 9c/kg dearer, with several buyers struggling to match feedlot prices. The limited number which did sell to the trade made from 355c to 371c/kg. The spotlight shone on secondary steers 330-400kg in the market, with prices surging 30c to reach a top price of 377c/kg. Medium weight feeder steers sold 8c dearer making from 328c to 379c/kg

In the export market not all buyers operated which resulted in heavy steer prices fading 7c to average 344c/kg. Heavy bullocks were in short supply, which pushed prices 5c/kg higher. Bullocks made from 332c to 352c to average 345c/kg.
