AuctionsPlus Market Comments: Week Ending 28th March

By James Anthony

Sheep and lamb numbers dropped on last week's numbers to 55,309 head offered, which is still a solid week ending what has almost been a record month for AuctionsPlus in terms of sheep listings. Sheep clearance rates also remained high above 80% for the week. Cattle numbers were down by 3,359 head to 4,322 head offered as a result of some heavy rain along the east coast making farmers reassess their selling options. The cattle market reached its highest level since December 2013 as a result of reduced numbers and rainfall over the last week and this was seen on AuctionsPlus, where clearance rates were above 75%.

Scanned first cross ewes made between $130 and $180 this week, with the top price being 18 month old St Helena blood ewes averaging 55kg out of Wagga Wagga. There were a few mixed age lines of Merino ewes offered on AuctionsPlus this week, while scanned and joined ewe prices dropped. Young unjoined ewes sold for between $28 and $119. Eighteen month old Langdene blood hoggets out of Gulgong, averaging 54kg with a December skin made $119. Scanned Merino ewes prices were generally lower this week with the top price being $125.50 for Southrose blood ewes out of South Australia in lamb to White Suffolk.

There have been reports of a 17c increase in mutton prices for the week to 323c and this was met with strong demand from the processors on AuctionsPlus and as a result prices were higher. Processors secured several lines of mutton, with prices ranging from 322c to 381c. In Tasmania, 18kg Merino ewes with a May skin made 381c/$67 including skin value. A line of 17kg lambs out of Tasmania with a January skin made 540c/$88.50 including skin.

Merino wether prices remained steady on last week's prices. Hoggets ranged between $37 and $55.50 and lambs made between $40 and $83. The top lamb price was a line of ten month old Caloundra North blood lambs weighing 44kg, out of South Australia, with an October skin that sold for $83.

Big numbers of store lambs were again on offer this week, the majority coming out of NSW's southern region. Reports suggest that the most recent rainfall has caused an increase in lamb prices which has offset the easing market conditions we had at the start of the week. Good quality lambs have consistently been offered and this week was no exception. 32-34kg second cross lambs made between $74 and $96.50 and 35-36kg second cross lambs ranged from $94 to $117.50. The top price was a line of seven month old second cross Poll Dorset lambs average 36kg out of Bombala with a February skin that sold for $117.50.

Smaller numbers of cattle being offered had a positive effect on prices this week with light weaner steers and heifers recording some strong prices. Black steers that were less than 250kg averaged 237c and 250-300kg black steers averaged 214c. Only a limited number of 300kg+ steers were on offer averaging 186c. Heifers that were less than 250kg averaged 196c and 250-300kg heifers averaged 162c. Only a few lines of 300kg+ heifers were offered ranging from 137c to 162c. The top price for PTIC Females was a line of 3-4 year old Angus cows out of Quirindi that averaged 446kg, in calf to Angus bulls, which made $930.

A feature offering Alcoa Angus cattle out of WA saw weaner steers sell for between 232c and 238c. The top price was for 10 month old Strathtay blood steers out of Waroona averaging 326kg, which made 234c/$762.
