

Operations/Business Analyst - Northern Cattle

- Excellent career opportunity
- Corporate Agribusiness
- Brisbane based

Our client one of Australia's largest cattle producers and corporate farming entities, with extensive assets and vertically integrated supply chain interests internationally.

They are seeking an Operations Analyst to join their corporate head office in Brisbane. The role will work across the organisation, working closely with the Regional General Manager, Station Managers and the Finance team. It is responsible for delivering all station and business division budgets and forecasts, including 12 month rolling forecasts, across the Northern Territory and Western Australian operations. The position will assist with the preparation of Board reports plus annual livestock and property valuations. It is responsible for preparing all relevant capex analysis and proposals, in addition to working on M&A projects across the business unit.

Through proactively engaging Station Managers and developing strong working relationships, you will have a detailed understanding of the performance of each property, monitor market pricing, monthly weight gain performance as well as provide analysis on costs of production and benchmarking performance across stations against their operating plans.

This role requires:

- Proven analytical skills and extensive use of Excel
- Excellent attention to detail
- Strong written and verbal communications
- Ability to build rapport and develop effective working relationships
- Flexibility around work hours and the ability to travel through NT & WA

Opportunity exists for a proven performer with an analytical or finance background in agribusiness. A very driven and proactive attitude with the ability to work collaboratively across the business as well as managing their output autonomously is critical.
