From a sole trader family business in the mid-1860s, HW Greenham & Sons Pty Ltd has grown into a multi-million dollar meat processing business. Buying and export centres are located at Tongala and Smithton in Tasmania's pristine north-west.

Greenham sources cattle from local suppliers. The Tongala plant processes mainly cull dairy cows exported as grinding meat to Burger King in the US.

Greenham is committed to its employees and offers any training that benefits both employees and the company.
