

Traineeships

At Elders, we're as committed to rural Australia as you are. We provide rural producers with farm inputs, livestock and wool marketing options, technical advice and support, and a suite of financial services and insurance products.

Our long-term plan to reinvest in regional and rural Australia is better for business, our customers and you. When you join us you can be certain you are working for a truly progressive agribusiness offering diverse opportunities backed by 170 years of experience.

As an Elders Trainee you will learn about our business so that you can share and create the Elders' vision "...to be our clients most valued commercial partner through our people, expertise and relationships...". You will be working in a branch to gain valuable on-the-job experience, as well as gaining skills and knowledge through our innovative online learning programs and face-to-face workshops.

The Traineeship is an 18 month program which will give you an in-depth understanding of:

- the way we do business, the legislation we must comply with and the computer systems we use to carry out our business effectively and efficiently
- the Elders way of working with clients and how we work to deliver value to their business
- product knowledge so that you can confidently give advice on farm inputs, animal health and livestock products
- how to prepare and select stock for sale
- how to present and promote Elders farm supplies in store
