

Live Export Manager

Primaries, a Ruralco Business, is proudly Australian owned and managed providing agricultural services to Western Australian farmers. The Company has expanded its services in recent years whilst maintaining its focus on dedicated, personal and professional service.

As part of the Primaries livestock team we are looking for an experienced self-starter to lead the live export services division. This role will play a major role in shaping the leadership and development of Primaries livestock into the future.

Reporting to the General Manager, you will be responsible for the day to day management of Primaries' supply of sheep and cattle to live exporters. This will require development of close relationships with all of the major live exporters together with other external and internal stakeholders.

In addition to live export responsibility, you will also play a key role in the co-ordination of livestock marketing activities for Primaries and the growth of the business across the state. You will also actively promote the other services provided by Primaries including wool, real estate, merchandise, insurance and finance.

The successful candidate will have:

- Significant experience in livestock marketing
- Excellent communication skills;
- The ability to build strong relationships both internally and externally;
- Demonstrated their capability to grow business activity; and,
- A clear understanding of key business performance indicators.

If you have a proven track record as a leader in the livestock industry we want to hear from you.

An attractive remuneration package will be available for the successful candidate.

All enquiries will be held in strict confidence. Please contact Andrew Lindsay (General Manager) on 0407 116 403 or andrew.lindsay@primaries.com.au for further information.
