

General Manager Breeding and Genetics

The North Australian Pastoral Company Pty Limited (NAPCO) is seeking a General Manager – Breeding and Genetics to be based in its Brisbane head office.

NAPCO is a leader in Australia's cattle industry with a herd of approximately 200,000 cattle. The company operates 13 cattle stations across Queensland and the Northern Territory, covering 5.8 million hectares and an award winning feedlot on the Darling Downs.

The successful applicant will report directly to the Chief Executive Officer. The primary focus of the role is to lead the Company's breeding and genetics programme, including overseeing the five breeding stations.

Key requirements include:

- A sound understanding of cattle genetics, including the use of Breedplan.
- Experience managing a team of subordinates based in remote locations.
- The ability to set, measure and report against key performance targets.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- Experience in the use of herd management software.

To receive the position description, selection criteria questions and other application information, please email info@napco.com.au or call Erin Gilliland, Human Resources and Training Officer on 07 3221 2266.

Applications close Friday, 26 September, 2014.

www.napco.com.au