

Located in Central West NSW, a long-term management position is currently available on a 6,400 acre cattle property with a 1,000 head NFAS accredited custom feedlot. In addition to the feedlot operations is a herd of fullblood Wagyu breeders and bulls, as well as a herd of Angus breeders for the production of F1 Wagyu cattle for the export market.

Reporting to the Company Directors, this role requires an energetic, team oriented individual with leadership skills and experience in all aspects of beef farming & feedlot production. As part of the management team, previous experience in daily feedlot operations including all aspects of feedlotting such as bunk feeding, induction, maintenance and reporting, as well as other general farm duties are essential.

The successful applicant would need to enjoy planning, budgeting, conducting analysis & making important decisions while being detail oriented. Experience in cattle husbandry, farm management, sowing & spraying of winter crops & pastures are also required.

A 3-bedroom house is provided as part of the remuneration package. The farm is close to schools & services. Salary remuneration will be dependent upon experience. Please submit your application and resume along with 3 referees to enquiries@crownstate.com.au.
