

Feedlot Livestock Position

Rangers Valley operates a modern 33,500 head cattle feedlot, backgrounding and farming operation on the Northern Tablelands of NSW.

The company specialises in the production and marketing of high quality longfed beef for both domestic and international markets.

A position has become available for a stockperson to join our livestock team, providing the opportunity to develop horsemanship and cattle handling skills. This is a full time position working a 10-4 roster system.

Key duties include but are not limited to;

- Daily pen riding monitoring cattle health
- Administration of animal health products
- Processing new arrival and sale cattle
- Handling cattle both individually and in mobs using horses
- Computer operation for record keeping
- Maintenance of livestock waters
- Quality control

This position is suited to a person with an interest in livestock and in particular intensive cattle production. Career opportunities are available for motivated, self-starters with a positive attitude towards learning. No experience is required other than the ability to work as part of a team, follow production guidelines and safe work procedures.

The position offers above award wages and will require the supply of horses and tack.
