

“High Tea” Inaugural Event

*Do you work in the feedlot industry?
Are you an employer trying to find ways to retain talented employees?
Or are you simply passionate about lot feeding?*

If so, we invite you to attend the inaugural Women of Lot Feeding High Tea, where you will hear from inspirational speakers from within lot feeding and the broader agricultural industry, as well as have an opportunity to meet and network with like-minded lot feeders.

When: Saturday 5th March 2016

Where: Jimbour House, Jimbour QLD

Time: Grounds open at 12 noon for registration, with formal proceedings starting at 2pm

Dress Code: Smart Casual

Cost: $45 (High Tea foods & complimentary beverages included#)*

Tickets must be purchased by Friday 26th February and can only be purchased at:

<http://toowoombatickets.com.au/event/high-tea-2200>

Proudly supported by

For more information:

- ❖ Email womenoflotfeeding@outlook.com.au*
- ❖ Like “Women of Lot Feeding” on Facebook*
- ❖ Follow @WOLF_LotFeeding on Twitter*

“High Tea” Inaugural Event

“A forum for those passionate individuals involved both directly & indirectly in the feedlot industry, providing inspiration, support, networks & opportunities”

Keynote Speakers:

Tess Herbert – Sponsored by Bovine Dynamics

Tess has extensive experience in the Australian lot feeding industry; she became a director of Gundamain feedlot in 2002, Coonamble feedlot in 2005 and Ladysmith feedlot in 2010. In addition, she joined the Australian Lot Feeders Association (ALFA) as a Director in 2008, became Vice President in 2013, and most recently was elected as the current ALFA president in 2015.

Jordan Peach – Sponsored by Zoetis

Jordan has a broad range of experience in the beef industry. He currently manages the Mort & Co Grassdale Feedlot team, which is comprised of around 70 people. In this role he oversees all aspects of the daily feedlot operations, as well as manages and schedules resources and projects. Jordan was awarded the ALFA Young Lot Feeder Achiever Award in 2012.

Susan Bower – Sponsored by BEC Feed Solutions

Susan is a driven and passionate advocate for Australian agriculture and agribusiness, with strong knowledge, experience and skills across the financial services industry and agriculture. On top of being involved in numerous industry initiatives, she is currently Head of Agribusiness, Australian Financial Services at The Westpac Group.

The Women of Lot Feeding “High Tea” is proudly sponsored by:

*Booking fees apply

Networking drinks with cash bar following proceedings (No ATM onsite)