

Graduate Role in Sales and Marketing

A sales & marketing position is available in our diverse food business for a graduate who is looking to develop their career in the food industry. This position is based in our Gold Coast office.

Our aim is to allow the successful applicant to be exposed, mentored and trained in all aspects of the food business with a particular focus on imported foods.

What the role expects from you:

- Managing current accounts with an eye to growing the customer base
- Sales administration, including proposal and report preparations
- Manage our social media, online communications and web based activities
- Ability to identify and action new opportunities
- Input into strategic plans
- Sales support to senior staff

In order to be considered for this role you will need to have:

- A recently completed tertiary qualification (Business Degree)
- Sales experience
- Proactive and confident sales approach
- Clear and confident communication skills
- Drive and motivation for long term career success
- An ability to build relationships with a range of people

Short listed applicants will be invited to take part in interviews.

The remuneration package will reflect the person's experience and qualifications.

Applications should be sent to : gcrecruitment@rtcfoods.com.au

