

General Manager - Processing

- Leadership, membership services, strategy, advocacy
- Key industry role

The Australian Meat Industry Council (AMIC) is the Peak Industry body representing meat processors and exporters, retailers, and smallgoods manufacturers. AMIC confers with members, State and Federal governments and industry stakeholders to influence policy and provide technical and other advice to the industry. AMIC represents over 1800 members in a broad range of industry forums that covers such issues as market access, technical barriers to trade, food standards, food safety, industry communications, animal welfare and Government regulation and compliance amongst others, to ensure the best trading environment for members and the industry.

The General Manager – Processing is the senior role within AMIC's Processor business, responsible for the leadership and management of AMIC's Processor Group. The position will lead a team of industry professionals delivering membership services, strategy, industry policy, advocacy and the resolution of industry issues that achieve positive outcomes, mitigate risk and ultimately add value to members' businesses and the red meat processing and export sector as a whole.

The General Manager will coordinate efficient business administration including staff resourcing and financial obligations, AMIC board reporting, issues and risk management, and where appropriate coordinate cross sectoral activities for the betterment of the organisation and its members.

Key to fulfilling this role will include:

- Demonstrated experience in strategy, advocacy and policy development, preferably with a member-based organisation
- Excellent interpersonal skills, from grassroots through to the highest corporate and government levels
- Strong analytical, attention to detail and negotiation skills for the resolution of what can be complex issues
- Proven team management skills in leading and motivating a team of industry professionals
- An understanding of agriculture and the meat processing and food export sectors will be an advantage but not mandatory

This role is a great opportunity for someone looking to elevate their profile at a national level who will bring a new enthusiasm to what is now the largest trade exposed manufacturing sector in Australia. A suitable package commensurate with the importance of this position will be negotiated for the right person, so to enquire please contact Mick Hay or Sharon Moloney on 07 3878 3411, or apply via www.rimfireresources.com.au
