

Sales Representative Meat Trader

Located in Dandenong South (Vic), Oakdale Meat Company is a long established and growing meat processing company offering an extensive range of premium beef products to the retail, food service, and wholesale domestic market.

Our growth stems from our commitment to ensuring the quality and consistency of all Oakdale products. We are committed to every stage of our processing procedure from livestock breeding to the maintenance of the cold chain and cold distribution.

We are now looking for an experienced Sales Representative/Meat Trader to join our Sales Department. In this role, you will;

- Negotiate purchases and sales of livestock carcasses, quarters and primals.
- Secure new business with customers while maintaining existing established clients
- Identify and pursue potential growth areas
- Provide superior customer service
- Be proactive and show initiative to further additional business opportunities

Previous sales/trading experience is required, ideally within the meat or similar food related industry as is a knowledge of the various meat cuts and a proven track record of success in sales

To succeed in this role, you will;

- Possess the ability to utilize computer programs and applications to manage your product, sales and client information
- Have a high standard of written and verbal communication skills
- Be organised and able to prioritize and meet deadlines

Interested? If so, apply now using the link below. If you have any queries please feel free to call Paul Simmons on 03 8780 6311 or by Email on psimmons@oakdalemeat.com.au