LEAD BEEF INSTRUCTOR (Longreach)

Queensland Agricultural Training Colleges is moving in a new direction. With a widely accepted Strategic Plan and focus on preparing the future workforce for agriculture in Australia, we are seeking key individuals who will make a difference to our organisation. As part of our current and contemporary links with Industry, we are seeking key experts to add value to the programs designed in partnership with us.

One such program is the Northern Beef Industries Program, which incorporates a curriculum that has been designed with the input from the nine leading pastoral companies with whom we have agreements for interviews for employment for students who successfully complete this program.

QATC is seeking a high level livestock instructor who, with a specialisation in beef production, has experience in the greater beef industry across northern Australia AND a passion for sharing this expertise with the future Northern Beef industry workforce.

LEAD EQUINE INSTRUCTOR (Emerald)

As with the Northern Beef Industries Program, QATC's Equine Studies program at our Emerald College location incorporates a curriculum that has been designed with input from the equine industry. The program has a critical focus on building capability in relation to the production, care, riding and utilisation of horses in the broader agriculture industry.

As such, QATC is seeking a passionate, experienced high level livestock instructor to lead our equine program.

The successful candidates will have the opportunity to work with our production team, partners and critical friends to expose our students to the latest research and technologies which are being added into our production business. This business spreads across five locations including Longreach Pastoral College and farm, Emerald Agricultural College and the "Berrigurra", "Narayan" and "Rosebank" properties.

Due to the composition of the programs and our production business, both positions will work across all of these locations as the students gain from the variety of opportunities arising from the full production calendar on offer across all of these locations.

QATC is seeking outstanding individuals who will lead these programs and work with other instructors who have expertise in components of the course to produce outstanding personnel for the agricultural industry. As members of the Education and Training team you will work in partnership with the production, student support services and assets and facilities teams to collectively meet needs of delivering these programs to successfully support the student journey.

If you feel this position is for you, please contact Bernie Ingle. Manager, Education & Training (Residential Campuses) on (07) 4652 8588 / 0407 760 520 to discuss further.

To be eligible for employment, applicants must be an Australian Citizen or hold permanent residency status.

To ensure your application is considered, please ensure you refer to the QATC Information Recruitment Sheet supplied on the Queensland Smartjobs website www.jobs.qld.gov.au

Applications close 4 December 2017.

QATC may interview and recruit an applicant prior to the closing date.
