

Pastoral Operations Officer

The North Australian Pastoral Company Pty Limited (NAPCO) is an innovative Australian company that aims for excellence in all areas of its operations. The company employs 200 staff and runs a herd of approximately 200,000 cattle across a property portfolio of 14 cattle stations and an award-winning feedlot, covering 6.1 million hectares in Queensland and the Northern Territory.

As NAPCO's Pastoral Operations Officer you will be based in our Brisbane Office and assist all our Station Managers with a range of responsibilities. This role reports to the Head of Pastoral, Stewart Taylor and the Manager – Office of the CEO, Stephen Moore.

Your extensive and diverse role will provide analytical, administrative and logistical support to the Management team undertaking projects relating to legislative requirements, carbon abatement, property and environmental planning and overall business efficiency and profitability. The position will include station visits and other travel as required.

To be successful in this position you will have:

- An understanding of the extensive pastoral industry, the beef supply chain and key profit drivers
- An understanding of the principles of property and environmental planning in the pastoral industry
- Familiarity with key legislative and other requirements of the pastoral and feedlot industry
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Strong computer literacy including familiarity with Microsoft suite products
- Analytical research and problem-solving ability
- Tertiary qualifications in either Agricultural Science, Natural Resource Management, Environmental Science, Animal Production, Agricultural Commerce, or similar discipline; or equivalent experience.

Please apply with your cover letter and resume via our website or by emailing egilliland@napco.com.au

Please contact Erin on 07 3221 2266 or egilliland@napco.com.au if you have any questions.