

SALES REPRESENTATIVE Wagga Wagga, NSW

Shearwell Australia Pty Ltd supplies livestock identification and management products. These include electronic and visual ear tags, RFID readers, automatic handling equipment and a range of software-related products.

We are now looking for a committed, highly organised, self-motivated sales professional who is capable of selling our range of products throughout New South Wales.

- Must be prepared to travel extensively to all livestock areas in New South Wales, Northern Victoria and interstate.
- Ability to cold call and use previously well-developed contacts within the livestock industry in New South Wales and Northern Victoria.
- Ability to develop brand awareness of all Shearwell Australia products.
- Attend shows and field days as required.
- Self-motivated but also a team player.
- Conscientious self-starter with well-developed communication skills.
- Good administration skills and well-developed computer skills with the ability to be involved in setting up and providing service and back up for our range of products.

Candidates who could display knowledge of the livestock industry and RFID technology would be at a distinct advantage.

This represents a superb opportunity to join our successful and expanding company based in Bendigo, Victoria.

Attractive remuneration package including high spec Ute.
