

GENERAL MANAGER GINGIN ABATTOIR, WESTERN AUSTRALIA

We are seeking a motivated and driven General Manager for a small stock processing plant in Gingin, Western Australia (93km North of Perth).

Reporting to the CEO, the General Manager will be responsible for the complete production process from small stock intake for chilled airfreight carcasse product through to managing the added value lamb processing section for select meats in vacuum packaging formats.

You are responsible for coordinating and driving the overall operations to ensure KPIs are achieved and the business is conducted safely and meets environmental and regulatory standards in accordance with company policies and procedures. You will be constantly striving to seek improvement and will be actively involved in training and developing local talent.

QUALIFICATIONS

To be considered for this role you will ideally be able to demonstrate a minimum of 10 years experience working in a large/medium-scale abattoir and packaging operations, with at least 5 years in a senior managerial role.

Quality assurance experience is essential, preferably within meat processing and this is complemented by your experience in logistics, purchasing and sales in the meat industry.

You lead by example, providing direction and delegating always with a solution focus. With excellent organisational skills you oversee day-to-day planning and project management of new initiatives and thrive working in the diverse environment that is part and parcel of managing a full small stock production process.

A tertiary qualification in food or meat science, complemented by management studies is preferred.

THE OFFER

An attractive remuneration package is being offered, suitably reflecting your level of experience and qualifications.
