

Livestock Hand

With an enviable story contributing to their success, one of Australia's leading international marketers of premium branded beef has a terrific opportunity for an experienced Livestock hand who will be part of the Feedlot Livestock team, optimising team outcomes and helping drive a customer first mindset. Additionally, you will work closely with a strong and dedicated team, therefore providing a great working experience.

Lotte's Sandalwood Feedlot is a 16000 head feedlot, run in conjunction with a 2000 hectare grazing and farming operation. Located 20km east of Dalby. Situated on Queensland's Darling Downs, Dalby is about 2.5hrs west of Brisbane and only 1-hr drive from Toowoomba.

Applications close 31st January 2020

Reporting to the Livestock Manager you will be tasked with the following

- Daily monitoring of Animal Health
- Drafting, Inducting, Treating, Exiting and moving cattle
- Accurate Data entry and record keeping using Feedlot software programs
- Maintaining Feedlot stock handling facilities

Skills/Experience

- Relevant previous Feedlot animal health experience
- Diagnose & treat symptoms in line with appropriate animal health protocols
- Appropriate demonstrated livestock handling ability and Horsemanship
- Flexibility to work on any tasks that are part of the overall running of the feedlot
- Desire for long term employment
- A drive towards focus on attention to detail

We Offer

- Single A/C Accommodation provided
- Plant Horses (or supply your own sensible team of horses)
- Horses housed, fed, shod and kept by company
- Development and appropriate training
- Competitive remuneration

For further information contact Sandalwood on 07 46637739

Or forward your resume (with referees):

Martin Fullagar

Email: MFullagar@sandalwoodfeedlot.com.au

Fax: 07 46637776