

Dual purpose cropping and livestock farm hand

An opportunity exists for a dual purpose cropping and livestock farmhand who is enthusiastic about farming, keen to develop their skills and progress their career in agriculture.

About the Company

Sustineri Agricultural Trust is located over two properties totalling 11,000 acres in the Oberon area of NSW. Both properties are exceptionally appointed with modern livestock and cropping equipment.

The operation produces dual purpose canola and wheat, high performance pastures of Ryegrass, clover and summer brassicas. Management are recognised in the industry as leaders in grazing systems. Combined both properties turn off up to 9,000 cattle and 50,000 lambs as well as harvest canola and wheat crops. No breeding livestock enterprises are produced on the properties.

Employment Conditions

- Competitive remuneration based on skills and experience.
- On site family friendly accommodation of a high standard
- Work vehicle
- On farm and external training provided
- Two month trial period

General Roles Performed

- All facets of both livestock fattening and farming programs.
- Adopt a culture where everyone is responsible and all employees need to understand the whole farm system.

We are looking for someone passionate that will enjoy working within a team environment but be responsible and capable to be proactive and complete tasks independently. Candidate needs to be competent in livestock handling and experience in operating a tractor at a minimum.

We are flexible with work/life balances and actively encourage candidates studying agriculture. This is a significant opportunity to learn both grazing and grain systems from the ground up.

The position is available for an immediate start although could be held open for the right candidate. For further information please call 0429 490 390 or send your cover letter and resume to accounts@sustineriag.com.au .All applications will be dealt with in the strictest confidence.