We are seeking an experienced pastoral cattle station manager to oversee and manage the cattle operation of Pardoo Station, a pioneering and innovative breeder and backgrounding property with a premium commercial Wagyu herd in rangeland (a breeder property segment) and intensive grazing and feeding systems (20 pivots providing perpetual nutrition, and short-term nutritional feeder pens for up to 4,500 weaners). The Pardoo Station herd includes 3,500 hd Wagyu breeders and backgrounds for over 9,000 hd weaners, at present. Pardoo Station is approximately 150 kms NE of Port Hedland in the Pilbara region of Western Australia.

The position provides a rare opportunity to be a part of the journey of a pioneering and innovative company, geared for rapid growth. It is expected that you will contribute to the execution of industry best practices across the areas of the rangeland breeders, and the intensive weaner grazing and feeding facility. Your core competency will be planning and leading all daily operational aspects of production on the station from breeding, weaning to feeder pen backgrounding.

Your success in this role will be built on your experience in cattle station or feedlot management. Ideally, you’ll have had exposure to wagyu production systems which may include breeding and feeding for pure blood and F1 programmes. Experience in developing and delivering infrastructure projects is highly desired as Pardoo Wagyu continues to invest in its herd and infrastructure.
