The Responsibilities

This is a key role in FAMA's business and involves:

- Providing analytical insights that support business decisions
- Developing and maintaining models for operational improvements, stocking and utilisation rates, budgeting and forecasting, capital projects and acquisitions
- Maintaining and where possible automating business performance reporting
- Assisting in the development and monitoring of R&D projects
- Building strong relationships with internal and external stakeholders

You

The successful candidate is likely to have:

- Strong communication and interpersonal skills
- Experience in the Australian cattle industry and ideally experience in other livestock, horticulture, cropping or other agriculture industries
- An ability to quickly understand agricultural concepts
- Bachelor's degree in Business, Agribusiness, Finance or Accounting
- High level financial and business acumen in a commercial environment
- Excellent business analysis and financial modelling skills
- CA, CPA or CFA qualification or study well progressed

This role is based in our Brisbane office at Grange but will require the ability to travel to properties in Queensland and NSW.
