

Gibson Grazing Co is seeking a motivated and experienced Station Manager to join our team and take over the reins of Bulloo Downs Station, Thargomindah

About the Station

Spanning an impressive 1,082,581 hectares the station is situated 125km south west of Thargomindah in the channel country. The property consists predominantly of open sandhills and alluvial floodplains. It is operated as a breeding, growing and fattening property. Bulloo Downs is extensively watered by the Bulloo River and creek systems, lagoons and a series of solar and motor bores, tanks and dams. In recent times a new pipe system has been installed to water large areas in the south of the property.

About the Role

As the Station Manager, you will be responsible for hands-on management and following strategic direction. Your primary duty will be to oversee infrastructure and water maintenance and development; livestock management; and staff management.

Duties

- Manage day-to-day operations of the cattle station
- Manage livestock handling
- Oversee infrastructure maintenance and development
- Manage water resources including solar pump systems
- Lead and supervise a team of up to 10 station staff and adhere to workplace health and safety protocols
- Maintain and improve station infrastructure and keep thorough records
- Coordinate pasture management and land conservation efforts
- Implement weed and pest control measures
- Report pasture conditions and livestock health
- Livestock inventory management and reporting

Skills & Experience

- Proven experience in pastoral management
- Extensive cattle experience
- Excellent communication skills
- Pilot licence an advantage

The successful candidate must be committed to cattle and beef production while embracing challenges and continuing the focus of Gibson Grazing Co. This position would suit a couple and/or family.

Accommodation

The Station Manager will be provided with a 4 bedroom homestead. The house features air conditioning, a renovated bathroom and an office. The accommodation also includes rural electricity, a landline and Starlink internet connection.

The station has a newly renovated kitchen complex and full-time station cook.

Gibson Grazing Co invites experienced candidates with a genuine interest in sustainable cattle management for this exciting opportunity to continue progress of Bulloo Downs Station. Apply now!
