

STATIONHAND

LOCATION: Bylong Station, Mudgee NSW

Hewitt is a progressive, innovative, and expanding large-scale livestock enterprise recognised for employing best management practice across its operations. The company has over 40 years' experience in successfully owning and operating grazing assets throughout Queensland, Central Australia, and New South Wales.

Due to an internal transfer, Hewitt presents an exciting opportunity for an individual seeking a career in a challenging yet rewarding environment, working amongst a highly professional, industry leading team. The role will be based at Bylong Station in the Mudgee region of NSW. The role presents the opportunity to live on-site and immerse yourself in the business. Reporting directly to Station Management, you will be a strong communicator, a driven and committed team player who is focused on progressing their career.

The successful applicant will require the following attributes:

- Natural animal husbandry skills & experience.
- Passion, enthusiasm & a willingness to learn and grow.
- Ability to communicate & work well in a small team environment as well as independently.
- Excellent problem solving & time management skills.
- Experience with farm machinery including tractors & implements.
- Knowledge of stud process and recording keeping would be advantageous.

Duties & responsibilities include:

- General station & farm duties including maintenance.
- Operation of machinery for pasture & crop production.
- Stock work including yard work & mustering of cattle.
- Fencing & stock water maintenance.

Hewitt offers training, career progression and above award wages. You will become a part of the largest organic protein supply organisation in Australia. Please send through your resume including two industry specific referees to careers@hewittfoods.com.