Technical Assistant (Maternity Cover)

Stockyard Beef, a privately owned vertically integrated agribusiness is looking for a team member to join our award-winning lot-feeding team at Kerwee Feedlot.

At Stockyard, we have a close-knit team where every one of us is committed to what we do, and that is producing Australia's most awarded beef. From the paddocks to the office, our team truly cares about each other, the animals we raise and the land we nurture.

Here's your opportunity to contribute your data analysis skills and work across both our Pastoral and Lot Feeding operations.

Stockyard Pastoral operates across several properties in New South Wales and Victoria where we are growing our herd of elite Wagyu genetics. Every step of our breeding and feeding is finely tuned through genetic analysis and benchmarking.

If you're ready to roll up your sleeves and be part of a family that values integrity and ambition, then we'd love to hear from you.

About the role

We're seeking a detail-orientated Technical Assistant as a full-time maternity cover (12 months), reporting through to our Feedlot Operations Manager. This is an exciting opportunity to work at the intersection of agriculture and technology, supporting our Feedlot and Pastoral operations through data management, trial coordination and technical support.

You'll be responsible for:

- Supporting the implementation and monitoring of the genetic and operational plan through data recording and management and in collaboration with the Stockyard Pastoral Leadership team.
- Accurate measurement and management of the Pastoral herd and Feedlot performance data.
- Generating insightful feedback reports for suppliers and supporting the management team with weekly and monthly KPI feedback.
- Overseeing the trials conducted at Kerwee Feedlot, including management and technical support of the Grow Safe system, including data integrity, analytics and reporting.
- Providing technical and data support on performance-based trials within Stockyard Pastoral and/or Stockyard Lot Feeders.

What you'll bring

We're looking for someone who has strong analytical skills and attention to detail who prides themselves on delivering accurate insights that drive operational improvements.

We are looking for someone who is:

- Experienced in working in a pastoral or lot-feeding operation (preferred but not essential).
- Experienced record management and maintaining data records and reports in an agricultural environment.
- Excellent in using Microsoft Excel (particularly using formulas), Word and Power BI.
- A team player who has the ability to work collaboratively with effective communication skills
- Driven by KPIs and a desire to meet or exceed these.
- Contributes positively to finding solutions when there is an organisational need and there's a temporary gap in resources.
- Willing to support and coach team members and leads by example with their commitment to our company's shared values.
- Committed to workplace safety and standard operating procedures.
- Respectful for our animals, environment, people and equipment.

In return

In return you will receive:

- A competitive salary package based on you experience and qualification
- On-demand wages to access your pay ahead of our scheduled fortnightly payday
- Nutritious daily lunches provided
- On the job training with career development opportunities
- Supportive team culture where great work and effort is recognised and rewarded
- Regular team celebrations
- Discounts on Australia's most awarded branded beef
- Access to an Employee Assistance Program offering professional counselling service that can work with you on issues that are affective you personally or professionally.

If you are looking for your next role in agriculture, we would love to hear from you.
