

2025 Trevor Schoorl Memorial Scholarship

Kick start your career in livestock nutrition

The Trevor Schoorl Memorial Scholarship is a unique opportunity to kick start your career in beef and dairy animal nutrition.

Named after the late Trevor Schoorl, an expert in forage and dairy production consultant, the scholarship is designed to provide young Australians passionate about livestock nutrition with an opportunity to broaden their knowledge and skills through on site visits to leading agribusinesses in Australia and overseas.

Based on their areas of interest, successful applicants will be placed for work experience at Australia's best dairy and feedlot operations, silage contractors and stockfeed manufacturers.

They will be provided $6500 to assist with travel and other expenses, to support them in maximising the learning experiences.

Applications for the scholarship open in June 2025.

Top nutritionist, better bloke

As Lallemand Animal Nutrition Technical Services Manager, Trevor Schoorl provided technical support to silage contractors, livestock producers and Lallemand staff throughout Australia and Asia-Pacific.

His honesty, accountability, humility and hard-working nature earned him the enduring respect of his many clients, colleagues and friends.

Trevor died in a sudden accident in 2018 but his legacy lives on through this scholarship.
