

Stationhand Wanted – Sheep & Cattle Operation

Are you looking for a hands-on role in the heart of the Australian livestock industry? We're seeking a reliable and motivated Stationhand to join our team on a mixed sheep and cattle operation located at Walcha NSW.

About the Role:

You'll be involved in all day-to-day operations, including:

- Mustering sheep and cattle (motorbike or vehicle as required)
- Livestock handling, yard work, feeding, drafting, and treatment
- Fencing and general property maintenance
- Operating and maintaining machinery and equipment
- Record-keeping and supporting animal health programs

About You:

- Experience with livestock (sheep and cattle)
- Confident working independently and as part of a small team
- Good physical fitness and a positive work ethic
- Mechanical and/or fencing skills a bonus
- Driver's license required (chainsaw or machinery tickets advantageous)
- Have your own paddock and yard dogs

What We Offer:

- Competitive wage with accommodation provided
- On-the-job training and development opportunities
- A friendly, supportive working environment
- Live and work in the stunning New England with a strong local community

If you're passionate about agriculture and ready for a rewarding rural lifestyle, we'd love to hear from you.

 Apply now with your resume and a short cover letter to mirani@mirani.com.au

 For more info, contact Hugh Nivison on 0412 402576